

Klove is positive and encouraging for me personally, my family & my community. It keeps us focused on what is good in life instead of what is negative. The songs and lyrics are always clean and elevating. It not only brings God's love and message of salvation to anyone listening, but also encourages the rest when they may be depressed, suicidal or contemplating divorce. It is a good thing in our lives and community. Please don't take away our translator for Klove.
